

REPORT PROGRAM BEFORE COUNCIL

Proposed Measures Considered at Special Meeting of Solons Tonight.

POOL ROOMS AND FIGHTING

STRONG OPPOSITION TO ORDINANCES AMONG MEMBERS.

Consideration of anti-gambling and anti-prize fight ordinances and the proposed automobile or traffic ordinance will come before the city council meeting at a committee of the whole tonight, and an open discussion on the measures has been invited by those favoring their passage. The automobile ordinance will come to the committee of the whole in a changed form, inasmuch as several of the points brought out during the informal discussion of the measure last Friday night will be inserted at the request of the Utah Automobile association.

In the case of the anti-gambling ordinance introduced by Councilman W. McKinley, the license committee of the council has been laying plans for a determined opposition to their adoption, and one of the moves already suggested by the members will be to prevent the passage of a referendum at the committee meeting tonight. In case this move is successful the ordinance will be passed over from week to week until they are either taken from the hands of the committee or are forgotten by those favoring their passage.

No Pool Room Books. This ordinance is designed to prohibit any pool room where books or pools on horse races are made, and it also reaches to those who bet money on horse races. Another clause in the ordinance makes it unlawful for any saloon doing business under a city license to sell drinks in any place where gambling of this kind is conducted. This provision comes so near treading on the business corner of Councilman M. E. Mulvey that the "Big Four" of the council, consisting of Mulvey, Moreton, O'Donnell and Reed, will spare no efforts in preventing the passage of the ordinance. The penalty for violation is specified at a fine not to exceed $250 or imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed three months.

After "Amateur" Fighters. The ordinance prohibiting prize fights is framed so that if passed it will effectively stop the "meal ticket" bouts which have been conducted as "amateur boxing contests." It provides that anyone who engages in, instigates, encourages or promotes any premeditated fight or contention without weapons is liable to a fine of $250 or imprisonment for three months in the city jail, or both, and further, anyone who will engage in a prize fight or a contest is equally guilty. This, it is understood, would prevent any real amateur boxing match, although the sports of Salt Lake have not seen one in so long that the date of the last one has been forgotten.
